

Demos Rally Behind JFK After Attack

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 6,000 Democrats rally tonight behind President Kennedy, under attack from Republicans for his support of the tractors trade and for new spending proposals.

Kennedy himself had top billing at the $100-a-plate dinner celebrating his 44th birthday two days early. The sale of 6,000 tickets promised a sizable reduction of the party's $2 million debt.

Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., (former President Harry S. Truman and other party notables are to speak on a program to emphasize that Democrats are united behind Kennedy in advance of his trip to Europe next week.

Kennedy leaves after the dinner for his Hyannisport, Mass., summer home. From there he will go to Boston Monday night for another birthday dinner. Returning to Hyannisport, he will fly to New York Tuesday to speak that night at a Cancer Fund dinner.

Tuesday night, accompanied by Mrs. Kennedy, he will fly to Paris for conferences with President Charles de Gaulle. From there he will go to Vienna for informal talks June 3-4 with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

The Kennedys will fly to London June 5, where they will meet the queen and Kennedy will talk with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The Democratic National Committee arranged to get reports from Chairman John M. Bailey and other party workers at a mid-day session in advance of tonight's dinner. Bailey announced he would call for appointment of a committee to begin consideration of a site and date for the party's 1964 convention.

Committee aides said there were no plans for formal replies to fresh Republican attacks launched against Kennedy.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana touched these off by assailing Kennedy's support for a private committee's campaign to raise funds to trade tractors to Prime Minister Fidel Castro for 1,200 prisoners taken in the disastrous invasion of Cuba.

The Republican leaders said Kennedy had compounded the "enormous loss of prestige abroad" in the invasion failure by approving "blackmail payments" to Castro. A check of senators showed most of the mail received opposed the ransom plan.

Worry About Strawberries From Mexico

SEARCY, Ark. (AP) — Growers and processors of White County's $10-million strawberry crop are concerned about the inroads Mexican strawberries are making in this country, processor L. A. Miller of near by McRae said today.

This year alone, Miller said, more than 40 million pounds of Mexican — processed berries will come into the American market.

He said this is more than is currently being produced in Arkansas, Louisiana, Tennessee and Alabama combined.

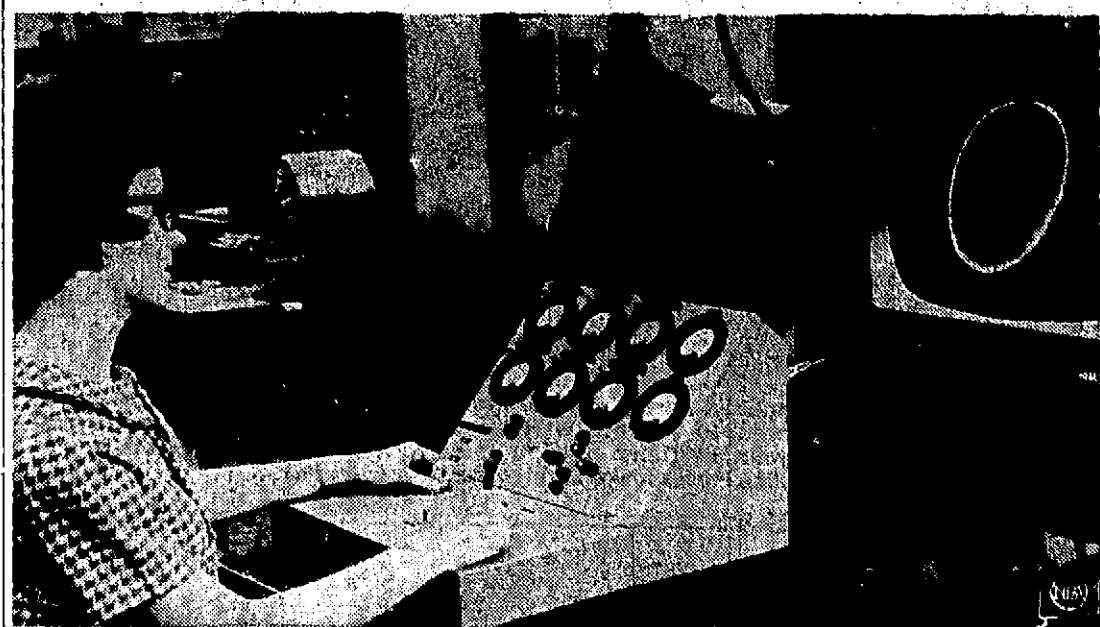

He and others also said that the domestic price probably would be up to around 14 to 15 cents a pound, instead of the present 12, if it were not for the imports.

"The price differential is the big trouble," Miller said, "because Mexican growers are paying 80 centavos (roughly equivalent to 8 cents) an hour for processing berries, under the minimum wage law, we are paying $1 an hour or more."

He said there was a comparable differential in prices for picking. The tariff does not offset the difference, he said.

A comparatively few years ago nearly all strawberries were eaten fresh or made into preserves or jam by home canning during the growing season.

Improved freezing and processing methods have made it possible for them to be sold the year around, a probable factor in the rise of imports.

LADY ASTRONAUT—Women may be better spaceship drivers than men. At least, that's one result researchers have found after a year of imaginary space flights at the Martin Co. in Baltimore. Girl above is conducting a simulated rendezvous with another vehicle in outer space (circle on screen). The studies are part of Project Apollo, which is aimed at sending a crew of three to the moon. They indicate that women adapt to space flying more quickly than men.

Tractor Swap Rapped by Republicans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders today called President Kennedy's support of the tractors-for-prisoners exchange "another blow to our fast-diminishing world leadership."

"The disastrous handling of the Cuban invasion has caused America to suffer an enormous loss in prestige abroad," the GOP leaders said in a statement.

"But now President Kennedy has compounded that loss by disclosing his official sponsorship of a so-called citizens movement for the American people to make blackmail payments to Fidel Castro."

The statement, approved by a conference of Republican Senate and House leaders, was read to newsmen by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate GOP leader.

While a number of Republicans, notably Sen. Homer E. Capehart of Indiana, have kept up a constant attack on Kennedy's support for raising funds to buy 500 tractors to ransom upwards of 1,200 Castro-held invasion prisoners, today's action was the first official party attack on it.

Resolutions were introduced in both the House and Senate Thursday aimed at putting Congress on record against ransom for more than 1,200 rebels captured in the U.S.-supported invasion.

In Detroit, the Tractors-for-Freedom Fund said it had received 200 to 250 letters this week at its United Auto Workers Union headquarters.

Brendan Sexton, UAW fund coordinator, said the letters included "a number of inquiries from fairly significant people and organizations in other cities to conduct fund-raising drives there."

The fund was organized by Eleanor Roosevelt, UAW President Walter P. Reuther and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University and brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

In Miami, Fla., the 10 Cuban prisoners sent here to negotiate the deal were preparing to return to Cuba on Saturday. They had been given a 10-day parole by Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro to make the arrangements.

More opposition to the tractor exchange came Thursday from Gen. Eisenhower's former news secretary, James C. Hagerty.

In New Haven, Conn., Hagerty said, "I think we are setting by this a very dangerous precedent. I think we are going back to the Dark Ages when people were held for ransom, which this is."

"And I'm afraid it might be open season on free people around the world," if the program continues, Hagerty said.

Capehart introduced two resolutions against the tractor exchange in the Senate Thursday and Rep. William Jennings Bryan Dorn, D-S.C., offered one in the House.

If passed, none of the resolutions would be binding on the Kennedy administration.

President Kennedy, who helped organize the fund drive, has said he feels contributions should be deductible from income taxes.

Trustee Bend control structures are in Crawford and Sebastian counties.

Peace Corps to Work Long and Hard

By LOUIS C. PANOS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 7,000 candidates will puzzle over a 5½-hour written examination Saturday for the privilege of working long hours at low pay among living conditions often far below U.S. standards.

These are the candidates for volunteer service overseas with America's Peace Corps. They will start taking the examination at 8:30 a.m., local time, in 340 centers across the nation.

Although copies of the examination to be given are secret, Peace Corps officials have made available sample questions. These afford other Americans an opportunity to match wits with Peace Corps candidates, if they desire.

The test is the initial step in screening out the human talent and skills which the United States will lend underdeveloped countries under a special program set up March 1 by President Kennedy.

The examination is basically of the multiple-choice variety. Seven sections are designed to determine the candidate's knowledge or aptitude in English, foreign language, U.S. history and institutions, farming, health sciences and mechanical skills.

Two other sections seek personal information on the candidate—family and education background, hobbies, and leadership experience, such as school team captain, army platoon sergeant, club presidencies etc.

Examination copies have been closely guarded but Dr. Nicholas Hobbs, director of personnel selection for the Peace Corps, said these are typical questions:

"A related pair of words or phrases is followed by five lettered pairs of words or phrases. Select the lettered pair which best expresses a relationship similar to that expressed in the original pair."

"Torch: Liberty — (A) Tray; (B) Scales; (C) Justice; (D) Candle; (E) Bars; (F) Punishment (G) Lever; (H) Power."

Body of Gregory Is Back in Rome

ROME (AP) — The body of St. Gregory VII, one of the great popes of the Roman Catholic Church, was brought back to Rome Thursday night after a nine-century absence.

Pope Gregory, who decreed celibacy for priests and vested the power of electing popes in the college of cardinals, died at the age of 60, in 1053, at Salerno, south of Naples. His body remained there.

The body will be placed in a new church to be built in Rome this year.

U. S. Picks Up Challenge to Moon Race

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — President Kennedy has picked up the Soviet challenge to race for the moon—at huge costs to taxpayers.

But, some U.S. space scientists said today, he's also thrown back a challenge: Match American efforts to explore space for peaceful purposes and scientific knowledge—or at least share such results as openly.

Their comments came as several hundred scientists, industrialists and educators began the first National Conference on Peaceful Uses of Space.

The two-day conference is devoted to benefits promised by satellites for new worldwide communications by telephone, cables and television; weather satellites for long-range accurate forecasts or even ultimate control of weather; and probes to discover fundamental knowledge about space, earth, sun, stars and even the origin and fate of the universe.

Several scientists, speaking privately, said they thought President Kennedy's call for vastly expanded space efforts — including the multi-billion dollar race to place men on the moon — was bound to increase the harvest of practical and scientific knowledge to be learned from space.

In the last three years, U.S. scientists published 185 space research reports in the Journal of Geophysical Research, one scientist commented. In that same period, he said he had seen only 30 reports from Soviet scientists.

"While I have been in jail I have had time to think of every Peace Corps man and woman, whether they come from the North or South, and particularly those going to Tanganyika, the Philippines and Colombia. They will have to bear the burden of Montgomery, Ala."

Putting men on the moon will be terribly expensive—some estimates run up to $40 billion. Is it worth it to put man in space?

"I don't think we can afford not to try," said another scientist. "No more than nations could not afford to change from sailing ships to steamboats when steamboats came along. Or to jet airplanes or to jet airplanes. We simply can't afford to neglect new ideas and challenges, even though we don't know where they will lead."

Seeks Reason for Polaris Failure

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The Navy today sought to learn why a Polaris missile failed to follow its intended path, causing its deliberate destruction 10 seconds after it was launched from a ship.

The missile was blown apart by the range safety officer Thursday after it had been successfully ejected from the USS Observation Island.

The rocket, a longer-range A2 model, was programmed for a more than 1,600-mile test flight. It was only the third failure in 11 launches of the A2.

Department Store Sales About Same

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reports that department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the week ended May 20th were three per cent below those of the similar week last year.

Three reporting areas had higher sales — Louisville eight per cent, Little Rock 19 per cent and sales in seven smaller district cities rose six per cent.

But that was offset by a drop of 11 per cent in St. Louis and a fall of one per cent in Memphis.

Integrationists In Jail In Lieu of Posting Bond

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first 27 "freedom riders" convicted during the current drive to desegregate Deep South bus facilities remained voluntarily in a Mississippi jail today while 6 others threatened a jail hunger strike in Alabama.

The legal action in Jackson Miss., apparently had little effect on the determination of Negro leaders, however. Statements issued in a number of cities indicated a stepped up campaign was being planned with more riders expected to head South shortly.

The 27 convicted of breach of the peace in Jackson elected to remain in jail, at least for the present, rather than post bond or pay fines.

City Judge James Spencer told the riders their conduct "flagrantly disobeyed the law" shortly before he imposed $200 fines and 60-day jail terms Friday. But he suspended the jail terms at the request of the prosecution.

Defense attorney Wiley Branton of Little Rock, Ark., contended officers herded the 27 into a waiting room for white persons when they arrived from Montgomery, Ala., Wednesday in what he described as a "plot to arrest them."

At Montgomery, 6 of 11 riders arrested on charges of breach of the peace when they attempted to get integrated service at a bus station lunch counter were still in jail.

The chaplain at Yale University and four others from Eastern colleges were released under $1,000 cash bond each and flew to New York, explaining final exams begin next week.

Before leaving they held a news conference at the home of the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, a Negro integration leader who is among the six in jail. The home was heavily guarded by National Guardsmen.

George S. Smith, a Negro law student at Yale, said Abernathy had been denied permission to telephone his wife since his arrest Thursday.

"Those who remain in jail, beginning with the evening meal, have planned to start a fast which will continue until he is allowed to call his wife," Smith said.

The Rev. William S. Coffin Jr., the Yale chaplain, termed the arrests completely illegal. He also said a Yale faculty member sent down $7,000 for use as bond money, but declined to name the faculty member.

Coffin, who is a member of the President's Youth Corps Advisory Council, told newsmen after spending 28 hours in jail that "While I have been in jail I have had time to think of every Peace Corps man and woman, whether they come from the North or South, and particularly those going to Tanganyika, the Philippines and Colombia. They will have to bear the burden of Montgomery, Ala."

Farm Labor Shortage Reported

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A late cotton crop has created a critical farm labor shortage in east Arkansas, but the Employment Security Division is taking steps to alleviate it, Director J. L. Bland said today.

The ESD has hired eight temporary labor recruiters, Bland said, and it has asked Washington to increase the state's quota for Mexican workers.

"The ESD is doing everything it can to make sure we do not bring in any foreign workers who will knock an Arkansas out of a job," Bland said, "but estimates compiled from a recent labor survey indicate we will need 13,100 more workers than the domestic market can supply."

So far the government has allotted only 5,895 Mexicans for cotton chopping in Arkansas less than half the number needed to fill the estimated shortage Bland said.

Arkansas used 12,895 Mexicans last year.

Bland said the survey indicated a shortage of 7,650 workers in the Blytheville - Forrest City - West Memphis area where 3,443 of the quota of Mexicans have been assigned.

The Jonesboro-Paragould area shortage is estimated at 4,000 with 1,800 Mexicans assigned.

The Helena area shortage is 1,450 with 652 Mexicans assigned. About 37,000 domestic workers will be hired for cotton chopping Bland said.

City Going All Out for Big Poultry Festival, Showing Appreciation of Industry

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

For the second time Hope will be the host for the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Festival to be held at Fair Park June 2. Last year was the beginning of this district festival, and state officials commended Hope for having the most outstanding festival in the state.

The civic organizations in Hope are not resting on last year's laurels. Since January of this year plans have been underway to make this festival even better than the splendid one held in 1960. According to general chairman James Morrow local groups and merchants and area chairmen from neighboring towns are co-operating fully in this endeavor.

In case you are a stranger, poultry, and wonder why we proudly go "chicken" in June, there are some very good reasons. The poultry industry is a big business and everyone in Southwest Arkansas is affected by it. Approximately 600 farm families in the Hope-Nashville-Prescott area raise some 30 million broilers grossing $14 million and have $25,000 laying hens for a gross of $4,200,000. That, sir, ain't "chicken feed."

From 3,000 to 5,000 people are expected at the Poultry Festival next Friday. They will come from all over Arkansas, and special guests will include Mrs. Homer Grey, 1960 Arkansas Chicken Cooking Queen and Miss Gene Chambers, Arkansas Poultry Princess and a Miss Universe nominee in 1960.

It will be excusable to "run around like a chicken with its head off" next Friday, for that will be an activity-filled day for everyone. Registration of contestants will be held at the Barlow at 9:00 a. m. That will mean on-entrants in both the Chicken Cooking Contest and the Poultry Princess Pageant. Souvenir packages made up of various Hope manufactured products will be distributed to the contestants as they register.

The Chicken Cooking Contest will be held at the Coliseum in Fair Park all day. There are some 20 entrants in this competition and Mrs. Joann Phillips and Bill Watson are in charge. The four winners will receive $50 savings bonds as prizes.

The Poultry Princess Parade will be held at 11 a.m. Luncheon for about 30 Poultry Princess contestants, their chaperones, the judges and officials will be at noon by invitation only. The Hope Jaycees and Jayceettes will have a coke party for the princess hopefuls in the afternoon.

One of the features of the day, the Chicken-Que, will be from 4 until 7:30 p. m. at Fair Park with members of the Lions, Rotary and Garden Clubs working together to make this possible. Bob Turner and Y. C. Coleman are the chief chefs so it is bound to be good.

Following an open air band concert under the trees at the park, the Poultry Princess Contest will be held in the Coliseum at 8 p.m. Haskell Jones, master of ceremonies, will have a fine array of talent besides the lovely contestants. Music will be by Mrs. Ruth Culp (organ and piano) Burton Culp (drum), Pat Culp (string bass and vocal), all of Texarkana. Harold Eakley (tenor sax), Winfred Huckabee (electric guitar), both of Hope, as well as some other specialty acts.

Girls will compete in bathing suit and evening dress divisions with four $50 savings bonds being offered and a $25 bond for the fifth place alternate. The stage and dressing rooms will be constructed by the Kiwanis Club. Raymond Byers will be in charge of the contest.

Space will not permit recognition of all individuals and clubs that have worked so diligently to make the Poultry Festival a success. Suffice it to say that this Second Annual Poultry Festival will be the highlight of the entire area for 1961.

Spade Cooley Is Declared Sane

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Three psychiatrists who examined Spade Cooley told a Superior Court judge the ex-bandleader was sane when his wife was murdered.

Cooley, 50, has pleaded innocent by reason of insanity to charges he beat Ella Mae Cooley, 37, to death at their ranch home in nearby Willow Springs last April 3.

Judge William Bradshaw announced the findings of the psychiatrists Thursday. A sanity hearing is scheduled Wednesday.

And there is a school that holds that a little inflation—such as the slow rise of the cost of living in recent years—isn't really a bad thing after all, but is inevitable in any economy that is growing, however slowly.

Latin America Joins U. S. In Tractor Deal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fund raising groups in more than half the countries of Latin America have joined U. S. citizens in efforts to buy tractors to ransom 1,200 rebel prisoners held by Cuba.

This is part of evidence reaching Washington that Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro has suffered a serious propaganda setback as a result of his offer of tractors for prisoners.

Other evidence comes from comments by Latin American newspapers and public speakers which are in striking contrast to the stream of anti-U.S. utterances received here many times in the past.

The 10 prisoners Castro paroled a week ago to arrange a deal in the United States are slated to return to Havana today.

"They carry a message from a U. S. committee promising to supply the tractors if Castro frees the captives."

However, the group headed by labor leader Walter Reuther, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, wants to send a technical committee to Havana to work out details and obtain assurances that the prisoners actually will be released.

Castro has yet to reply to a telegram sent early this week containing the Reuther group's acceptance.

In Detroit, headquarters of the Tractors for Freedom Committee, contributions to the tractor fund are beginning to come in, but have not been totaled.

Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, told a Philadelphia audience the committee had received two $25,000 contributions. Information available in Washington indicates that tractor fund raising drives are under way in 11 of the 20 Latin lands south of the border. They are Chile, Colombia, El Salvador, Guatemala, Honduras, Mexico, Nicaragua, Peru, Panama, Uruguay and Venezuela.

Budget in Red by $3.5 Billions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal budget will be more than $3.5 billion in the red next fiscal year if Congress approves President Kennedy's plan to spend more on space research, defense, foreign aid and other programs.

Kennedy two months ago forecast a deficit of $2.8 billion, assuming action by Congress to boost postal rates.

The programs advocated by Kennedy Thursday in a special message to Congress would add $724 million to spending in the 1962 fiscal year which begins July 1. There would be a corresponding increase in the deficit.

In addition, Kennedy said a later message will call for more funds for civil defense. Officials estimated this might add another $70 million or so to next year's spending total.

Treasury experts haven't made any significant changes in their March prediction that fiscal 1962 revenues will total $81.4 billion. However, the Kennedy programs so far announced would boost spending to a peacetime high of more than $85 billion.

Spending also would be increased in future years. While outlays in fiscal 1962 would be hiked by $724 million under the recommendations made Thursday, nearly $1.6 billion would be appropriated with the difference being spent in later years.

Kennedy told Congress his recommendation would not require any increase in taxes.

Kennedy forecast the economy would reach new highs in the coming months and said, "The recession has been halted, recovery is under way."

However, he said solution of the unemployment problem will continue to present a serious challenge.

It's the fast stepper who has trouble keeping up with the running expenses.

—TAKE THAT RIFLE DOWN. BEAR HUNTING SEASON IS AT HEIGHT NOW IN ALASKA By BILL MCCORMICK

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. NEW YORK (NEA) — Just before explaining for the valuable piece of real estate once known as Seward's Folly, Maj. Harold F. Palmer had some advice for sportsmen.

"Don't," he said, "put that big game rifle in moth balls for the summer. Come to Alaska, loaded for bear."

Major Palmer flies big ones for the Air Force from the Elmendorf Base near Anchorage and little ones as a bush pilot.

"Alaska has all the bears," said the major, who is a one-man walking aground and flying Chamber of Commerce for the 50th state. "The season for all but the polar bears is at its height until June 30."

TO HAVE AND KILL

CHAPTER XXXVI

In the early evening dusk of that Sunday in July I sat with Sandy on a little balcony off the living room of her apartment and gazed out over the lights of the city and the murky expanse of Lake Erie beyond.

Sandy said, "This is really the first chance we've had."

"For what?"

"To talk, silly."

"What would you like to talk about?"

"Did you suspect him all along?"

"I didn't know nothin' from nothin'—not until I began to think about several odd things this morning."

Sandy said stubbornly, "I want to know."

I sighed and took a sip of chilled gin and dry vermouth. "Well, that William Darmody told me that he'd talked to Laura Reynolds in his room late Saturday evening—or rather he communicated with her by written notes. This morning when I searched his room the waste baskets and ashtrays had not been emptied and there were no written notes between Darmody and Laura Reynolds—just one note Darmody had written to Florine, the maid, asking for soap. So eventually I figured out that Darmody was either pretending to be a deaf-mute or had lied about seeing Laura Reynolds before she was killed."

"So he did not see her. He was just trying to implicate Stockmaster."

"Stockmaster has admitted that he had arranged to meet her on the beach to discuss their problem. But he went to sleep in the cottage. He claims he didn't even hear the shot and I believe him."

"So Darmody met her instead?"

Sandy asked, "And killed her?"

"Accidentally, according to Darmody. He was blackmailing her to keep her relationship with Stockmaster from Max Dane, whom she hoped to marry. She desperately needed Max's money. But she still loved Stockmaster and intended to continue to see him. Unfortunately she spilled the whole thing in letters to Stockmaster. Darmody, as Stockmaster's secretary, got hold of the letters and used them to blackmail her."

"Did Darmody admit it? The blackmail, I mean?"

"Yes, after his fingerprints identified him as a Miami bank embezzler named Jacob Salonsky. I noticed the initials tattooed on his arm, but thought nothing of it at the time. I also found a bottle of black hair dye in Darmody's room, but brushed it off to vanity. His hair is really brown. He grew die to live

The Book says this earthy body must die IF it is to live. How cheerfully the farmer plants his corn! He knows it must die, but he also knows that 'death' is part of the process of life. Immediately after the seed is buried in mother earth, all the ministries of God are set in motion to work a miracle. For it is said, that to make one little yellow grain, requires the sunshine and the rain, the hoarded riches of the sod — and God. It is all the miracle of Life. The hull rots and falls away much like the sins of a man being reborn of God. It is the Lord's way of carrying on His creative process to multiply the sustenance of both man and beast. Then thank God for life that is born of death. The fruit of summer and of autumn waits upon this death-to-life miracle of a good God, as a reborn soul waits to be used of his Lord. Then, there is no death... what seems so is transition.
